REMINISCENCES OF SAM HOUSTON DURING THE WAR—HIS SPEECH ON SECESSION

Correspondence of the Chicago Tribune
GALVESTON, June 1868

The history of General Sam Houston is the history of Texas, covering the events of nearly forty years—commencing with the struggles against Mexico for independence and extending through the days of the Texas Republic, the exciting times of annexation, including the war between Mexico and the United States, the fifteen years of peaceful connection with the Union under the Stars and Stripes, down to the unfortunate days of secession.

The "old war horse" had a most varied experience during this whole eventful period—sometimes fighting as the military chieftain of Texas, then as political leader—and anon as the official head of the republic or of the State—but his last battles were fought with the evil demon secession. And permit me here to say, and record it, that these last conflicts have never been well understood in our country, especially in the northern section thereof—and his words, actions and movements cannot be correctly interpreted without knowing and analyzing the anti secession animus by which he was actuated.

I do not essay to become his biographer except so far as of my own personal knowledge I am familiar with that portion of his history whereof I write.

On the general question of secession there were several classifications of ideas and parties.

IDEAS AND PARTIES

There was the old original dyed in the wool John C Calhoun, South Carolina, Nullifying Secession party. They believed in secession per se, for its own sake, and argued the right not a constitutional but revolutionary right of secession on the basis of State sovereignty and originality, and on the ground of Northern interference with Southern rights and institutions advocated the duty of unconditional and immediate secession. That the States were before the Union was, and all State attributes and powers which were not expressly conceded and delegated to the General Government were reserved within the enclosure of State sovereignty; that the constitution, framed and adopted as the joint act of free and sovereign States, was not intended to reflect the power back for the government of the States as such, but for the better protection of the States against foreign aggressions, and against mutual infringements in the society of States; that the Constitution of the Union Government, while it could not expressly provide for its dissolution, yet did not forbid secession, therefore the right of secession was negatively implied by its silence on the subject.

The men of this party were not the strongest numerically, but they represented the leading intelligence and wealth of the South.

CONDITIONAL SECESSIONISTS

There was another party made up of conditionalists. They believed in secession as a dernier resorte, in case the rights of the South could not be otherwise maintained. This party was the strongest of any in numbers and were met with taunts of pusillanimous submission to the meddlesome tyrants of the North, and when they said "Let us stay in the Union and fight for our rights under the old flag," the answer was insufficient for the crisis of the times. They were borne down by the explosive power of slavery by which the public heart was fired North and South.

THE UNION PARTY.

A third party said, though they dared not say it very loud, "Let slavery slide if need be, but let us have Union, with the old flag, at all hazards, the Union is better for us than any other possible condition." An effort was made to effect a junction between this party and the conditional men, but the lines would not meet. This was the minority party.

THE INEXPEDIENCY PARTY

A fourth party opposed secession on the ground of inexpediency and bad policy. They said they would not argue the original question of either the constitutional, the moral, or the natural right of secession, but confine themselves to the idea that secession was inexpedient and impolitic. They said that secession would precipitate war, and war would prove disastrous to Southern rights, instead of remedial. This was old Sam Houston's party, of which he was the acknowledged leader.

I remember, a few days before the vote on secession, the old General came down to Galveston from up country, to make a speech on the subject. He had been making a canvassing tour and was full of the inspiration of his subject—under which as you may judge, he was blessed with a "tolerable degree of utterance," as used to be said of candidates for the Methodist ministry when thought qualified therefor.

A self constituted committee of several leading gentlemen of the city waited on the General at his quarters and tried to dissuade him from attempting to make a speech in Galveston that day. They said "General, you know we are your personal friends and have been your political supporters heretofore, but we differ with you in your views on the question of secession, yet we do not wish to see you personally harmed. These are exciting times and we fear a mob may interfere and your life be in jeopardy."

HOUSTON'S REPLY

He said "Gentlemen, I thank you for your personal considerations and anxieties, but I have seen exciting times in Texas before, and I have heard my friends express their personal fears before. But gentlemen I shall make the speech today at 11 o'clock from the upper gallery of Tremont Hotel. Should be pleased to see you there gentlemen and if need be help keep order." This closed the interview and the committee retired biting their lips and muttering, "Stubborn old man."

Directly one of the committee came into my office and related the interview. I had then never seen Houston and had an itching desire to see and hear him, but, being a stranger in the country and the city being in an excited state, I concluded not to go and hear him as I did not wish to be caught in the presence of a mob. Eleven o'clock came and twelve, and a gentleman came in and said Houston is speaking, and has been an hour and all is quiet. Considering now that circumstances favored my desire to see and hear the old man eloquent of Texas I went. On seeing and hearing him a few minutes I no longer wondered he was not interfered with by the mob.

HIS PERSONAL APPEARANCE

There he stood, the easy object of thousands of eyes, and a fine mark for the assassin's revolver—an old man of seventy years, among the last of the country's giants, the lone giant of Texas, there he stood, over six feet high and straight as an arrow, a planter hat in one hand, a deep set and penetrating eye, that took in the vast crowd at a glance, a high open forehead, with some thing of the infinite intellectual shadowed there, crowned with thin white locks fluttering in the gentle breeze, as though electrical conduits of mental and moral power from on high for the occasion—and all this sustained by a powerful self possession and deliberation that inspirited the assemblage into a state of awful quiet and submission.

SYNOPSIS OF HIS SPEECH

I heard the last half of his speech—subject the inexpediency and bad policy of secession—and as I listened to his impassioned utterances I felt my self inflated nigh unto emotional collapse, with the sublime egoism (not to say egotism) of Gen Sam Houston on the occasion of an unprecedented crisis in the history of our country when the question of Union, as compatible with the republican doctrine of self government, was being subjected to the strain of the last fibre between life and death—and like Webster in his memorable defence of the Constitution against the violent assaults of Hayne of South Carolina enjoying an occasion fitted to call out his full powers.

He said to his hearers "I made Texas and you know it—the history of Sam Houston is the history of Texas and you know it. I wrested Texas from the hand of the Mexican tyrant and you know it. I commanded and fought at the battle of San Jacinto, when the fierce Santa Anna was whipped and captured and rendered powerless ever after against Texas and you know it. I organized and established the Republic of Texas, and you know it. I took you in infancy and dandled you on my knee, and nursed you through all your baby ailments. I watched and aided your growth with fatherly care and solicitude, from helpless infancy until you reached the full stature of independent political manhood.

I am an old man now and these are my last counsels. I have no ambitions for the future of a personal nature; my ambition is now all centered in the glory of my State and national flags. Soon I shall be gathered to the fathers. Will you reject these last counsels of your political father and squander your political patronage in unseeming and ruinous adventure?

Some of you opposed me on annexation, and I suppose have never forgiven me to this day, and I ... it ... have an apparent opportunity ... of annexation. But ... since annexation ... did not Texas enter upon a degree of prosperity she had never before known. ... the present troubles are not the results of ... action at all, but of other agencies and influences.

... AND BLOOD

Some of you ... propose to drink all the blood that will ever be shed as the result of secession.

Let me tell you the state of things that I think will follow close on the heels of secession. The time will come when your fathers, and husbands and sons and brothers will be herded together like sheep and cattle at the point of the bayonet—and your mothers and wives and daughters and sisters will ask where are they?—and echo will answer, where?

THE TEMPER OF THE NORTH

The fact is the North are determined to preserve the Union. They are not a fiery impulsive people, like you are—they live in cooler climates. But when they begin to move in a given direction where great issues are involved, like this between the North and the South in this crisis they move with the steadiness, perseverance and momentum of a mighty avalanche—and what I fear is they will overwhelm the South with ignoble defeat! But I could say amen to secession, with all the results of blood and misery I have pictured if I did not believe that our trouble would be adjusted—removed without invoking the Moloch of insatiate war—if there were no alternative to secession and the sequence of war then I would say fight, for it is better to die freemen than live slaves!

In conclusion let me ask you, are you of the same opinions and purposes of secession now that you were when you came to hear me to-day? And if you are, will nothing but the perdition of war satisfy and turn you away from them?

"I sum up the whole to day with a premonition that borders on the spirit of prophecy—hear it O, God and ye angels of His—hear, O ye people of Texas—secession will land you in consuming fires and rivers of blood!"

I noticed several times during the speech, the very men who in the morning opposed the speaker and the speaking, applauding lustily with their voice and hands—such was the magical power of Sam Houston over a Texas audience. The fact is it was a moral impossibility for him to be mobbed in Texas. The arm of the mobocrat was paralyzed in his presence. Doubtless, this fact was well understood by him, hence he feared no mobs. Houston was a friend and lover of Union though a believer in State sovereignty.

The Utica Herald rather pungently says that Mr Chase's letter declaring himself not a candidate for office but averring that it will gratify him if the Democrats will go for universal suffrage reads much like the old man's advice to his sons: "Boys it is very wrong to go fishing on Sunday, and its contrary to my orders, but you know your father likes fish!"

The pirate therefore has again written to the Secretary in reply to his letter, taking a highly dignified and pompous stand and addressing the Secretary in very disrespectful terms.

New Mines

(From the Jacksonville Sentinel.)

As we stated in a short item last week, Messrs Patty Fox & Co of Josephine county have struck pay gravel and have a good claim. The men comprising this company are old California miners, but lately they have followed prospecting as a business, having within the last three years traveled over the greater part of Idaho, Montana and Colorado Territories. Early in the season of '67 they with a large party started on a prospecting tour into Arizona, but, after proceeding some distance into the mountains, were driven back by Indians. Having no employment for a while, Mr Patty, who had mined at Sailor Diggings in 1857, proposed to Messrs F and T Newland and Fox that they come up here and try the Sailor Diggings country for mountain channel mines, and after describing the country to the above named gentlemen they determined to prospect in Southern Oregon until peace was made with the Indians in the Territories. They arrived at Waldo some time last November, and worked for Col Butterfield until they were convinced in their own minds ... he was expending labor to no purpose, when they quit him and commenced looking for the most favorable place to commence work on their contemplated undertaking.

Between two almost parallel forks of the Illinois river extends a spur or dividing ridge of the mountain, with the town of Waldo on the west side, and Allen's Gulch on the east side opposite to the town, and ... a mile distant. The prospectors found by observation that on one side of this mountain ... near the summit, there was a table or bench of a few yards in width, and they thought there might be a deep mountain channel ... up this spur. By further observation they found that when a deep gulch had cut ... versely into this mountain and had cut the supposed channel, it had invariably been rich, while small gulches that had not ... ed up to the summit of this high ridge, had not paid anything. They were further confirmed in their opinion of a deep channel by the fact that all the gold obtained in that neighborhood was heavy wash gold. ... satisfying themselves as well as they could of the existence of a rich auriferous deposit, they, in December last, selected a spot and commenced a tunnel so as to strike the channel about two hundred feet from the ... of the ground. The One Issue

The country's hope for peace and future security depends upon the defeat of the party which stands upon the sweepingly reactionary platform adopted by the New York Convention

It is clear enough that the triumph of such a party standing on such a platform would re-open all the principal issues of the struggle which has convulsed the nation for years past. Peace depends upon the acceptance of the whole results of the war. It is true the Democratic party professes to renounce what it calls its old heresy of secession but it takes care not to retract its denial of the right of coercing States when they make an attempt to separate from the Union. The party has always condemned the action of the Government in making war for its preservation. It has always stood on the principle that this action was unconstitutional and it carefully refrains from declaring otherwise now

Eight of the eleven States which rebelled against the Government have been restored to the relations with the Union which they lost by that rebellion. One of them, Tennessee, has been restored these two years. The Senators and Representatives from Arkansas and Florida have been admitted into Congress, and military government has been entirely withdrawn from those States. Before the close of this month five more of the revolted States will be admitted. Their Legislatures are now in session taking the preliminary steps for final restoration. Observe now what the "Democratic" Convention does. It declares the restoration of the Union unconstitutional and void, thus announcing to the nation that it is the intentions of the "Democratic" party if it obtains power, to overturn reconstruction, to thrust Tennessee and the other recovered States out of the Union, and either leave the country permanently divided or consummate reconstruction on a rebel basis as Andrew Johnson and the Democratic party proposed to do two years ago, when every loyal State by immense majorities forbade the iniquitous proceeding

It must be plain that any attempt to overturn the new State governments of the South and to dissolve their relations with the Government of the Union will produce a tremendous commotion, and if persisted in, will lead to a renewal of civil war. Those State governments can only be overturned by armed force. It cannot be done by any peaceful and lawful means. This declaration by the New York Convention is a threat the governments of the Southern States, in the event of Democratic success in the Presidential election, are to be overthrown by violence. If such an attempt is made, whether it be started by the rebels of the South or by the Northern Democratic party, civil war will surely ensue. Those State governments will defend themselves as they have a right to do. That such a contest would speedily embroil the whole country cannot be doubted. The issue which is now presented squarely before the people is A Republican triumph, with peace to the country, or Democratic success with a reopening of all the dangerous questions of the past. "Reconstruction," is the question. Shall there be a cessation of political controversy on questions which involve the public peace, or shall the conflict be renewed in an attempt to reopen the decisions of the war? This is the alternative which is placed before us by the reactionary declarations of the New York Convention

Genuine "Democracy"

To rightly understand and appreciate genuine "Democracy," such pieces of writing as that quoted below should be studied. Just see what the "Democratic" estimate is of such Generals as Grant, Sherman, Meade, Sheridan, Thomas, Rosecrans, Porter, Geary, Barlow, Howard, Logan, Sickles, Pope, Hooker, and the whole list who rendered distinguished service to the country during the war. The extract, it is almost needless to say, is from the Oregon Herald

If there was a General in the army notorious for cruelty, or brutality; one convicted of cotton stealing or silver spoon stealing; an insulter of women and a [illegible] of the aged and helpless; a coward, a thief, and a bully, you may safely look for him in some high position in the Radical party.

"Ex-Vice President" A H Stephens favors the New York Convention with his advice. Having been the second officer of the late Democratic white man's government at Richmond, his counsels will naturally have great weight with his party. So far, the Convention appears to have been favored with nothing from pirate Semmes or the spirit of Wilkes Booth

The Record says the contract has been awarded for furnishing one ton of bread for the Democratic barbecue [illegible]. The Democratic proportion of bread to sack is "one half pennyworth" of the former to an "intolerable deal" of the latter. Now how much sack will be required for the barbecue? Don't the thought of it make the old soakers' mouths water!

STATE ITEMS

The Burnett House property at Salem was sold on Monday to J J. Shaw for $6,000.

Three new warehouses are being erected at Independence Polk county capable of holding 150,00 bushels of wheat

The United Brethren have been holding a camp meeting near Centerville, Washington county. It closed on Tuesday, after a session of about ten days

A. C Gilmer was shot at the Dalles on Tuesday evening by a man named John Miller. The ball entered Gilmer's jaw, and passing through cut the upper portion of the tongue, making a terrible wound. Miller was arrested

The Unionist says it is proposed to organise another fire company at Salem and purchase a new engine. A sufficient number of young active men have signified their willingness to join a new company, to render it certain that the enterprise is practicable.

Speaking of Beriah's suit for damages against the city of San Francisco the Unionist says We hope Beriah will recover something, for the city is able to lose it, and if she chooses to send her paupers to Oregon, she ought to be mulct in sufficient damages to support them, somehow

The Record says that Mr Cross of Salem, is now commencing to build a curing and packing house near the slaughter house on his land south of the University and adjoining town. The main building will be 96x24 with wings forming three sides of a square. One wing will be 50x20 the other 30x20. Mr. Cross intends to carry on the curing and packing of meats very extensively

POLITICAL ITEMS

The Richmond Whig alluding to Gen Grant's wish for peace says that in war he knew how to deal with those who stand in the way of what he is aiming at

Certain Democratic papers are anxious that General Grant should resign. A similar anxiety was evinced in 1864 and 186 by the entrenched rebels in Richmond. History repeats itself

The Boston Post speaks of the Republican party's cutting adrift from it men like Seward, Dixon, Doolittle Johnson, Adams and others which reminds a cotemporary of the history of the tail which wagged the dog

Bob Toombs says the Atlanta New Era is for feeding the negroes and making every provision for their earthly comfort. Rumor has it that Bob says If the Democracy want the negro vote they must go in on the whisky tobacco and provision schedule."

The complaisant disposition of the Southern Democrats on the subject of the national debt is well illustrated by John Forsyth, of the Mobile Register who tells a Northern Democratic editor Do what you please with the public debt—pay in greenbacks or repudiate it—and we are with you

Seymour's friends say that he could not be considered a candidate for the Presidency before the July Convention because of his hereditary inclination to insanity, as his physician assured him that if the excitement of the campaign did not make him mad, the first year at the White House would

Senator Ross made a personal explanation in the Senate the other day in regard to his vote on impeachment, in which "conscience" figures very largely. He said "Until a few days before the vote was taken I do not deny it had been my intention to support a portion of the articles of impeachment nor do I deny that I have given members of those who approached me on that subject to understand that such was my intention"

There is every reason to expect says the New York World, that the Southern negroes will vote in the Presidential election and if we permit all those States to be carried by the Republicans we may as well hang our harps on the willows. It concerns us to gain a portion of the negro vote and it would be suicidal to put into the platform any declaration which the Radical demagogues and stump orators could use to turn the negro vote against us. No matter who is the candidate be it Pendleton or Hendricks or Hancock or Chase, he wants something more than the bootless honor of a nomination. Every candidate has an equal interest in getting the Southern electoral votes, and the judicious friends of all will alike deprecate the insertion in the platform of any declaration that would diminish the chances of carrying the Southern States

FROM WASHINGTON TERRITORY

The Olympia Transcript says: Mr Henry Dudley informs us that he is prosecuting the gold mining operations at Chehalis Point, with every prospect of ultimate success. Arrangements for hoisting water are being made, which has to be raised sixteen feet, when the operation of taking out the dust will begin. Mr Henry is confident that he will take out eight dollars per day to the man. There is plenty of ground to work and we hope he will make his pile

The people of Pierce county are in earnest about the woolen factory, and are pushing the matter along as fast as possible. Over sixteen thousand dollars have been subscribed for the purpose which is all that is required to purchase the machinery, pay freights and insurance and put it in working order. The business men of the county and especially a number of the well to do farmers subscribed liberally, and propose further to furnish buildings and more means for carrying on the business successfully. They propose to have the mill in order so that no wool clip of another year will go out of the Territory except in the shape of manufactured goods

The Seattle paper says On Monday morning last, Mr Peter Lawson, while assisting in relieving an ox that had been mired, was struck by the animal's horn under the right jaw. The end of the horn entered his head passed up to his ear. The latest accounts from his residence, which is on the Duwamish state that he is doing as well as could be expected

Mr H. D Cook reports to the Transcript that the civilization of the Indians at the Simcoe reservation is a perfect success and for which Mr Wilbur is deserving of great praise. The Indians have two churches, with native preachers and about six hundred church members. There is a good school at the reservation, and besides several boys are learning the different trades, such as harness making, blacksmithing, gunsmithing etc. Good saddles, harness, bridles, etc, are now made entirely by the native boys. Last year they raised large crops of wheat corn, potatoes etc and will do so this year. There is ground at the reservation mill the grain raised by them, and it was employed most of the time last fall and winter in grinding wheat and corn raised by the Indians and employees on the reservation. A considerable amount of flour, corn and vegetables were sold by them to the whites.

About 30,000 baskets of oysters are annually taken from Shoalwater Bay to San Francisco

The Future of Portland

[From the Salem Record]

We have a large amount of sympathy with our friends at the metropolis in their endeavor to secure and perpetuate themselves in the position of the leading commercial point north of San Francisco. Without being officious we would present to them our ideas on that matter, and suggest a course that, it seems to us would be very likely to insure the result so much desired. What they want is the lead in business matters and our gratuitous advice is, that they step boldly forth into the lead and push ahead taking Oregon along with them

A new era is commencing in Oregon. The iron horse is evidently coming, his progress may be slow and at times a little clogged with lawsuits and doubts, the work may meet with slight delay, but they are dullards who do not recognize that he is sniffing the breezes that come from Oregon and directing his own steps hither. The coming era can build Portland up if the city will keep pace with its requirements and to sum them up briefly, they are that with her wealth she opens up, invites and possesses for herself the commerce she so very anxiously covets. Let her build or buy suitable ships, and plow the oceans with them to her profit. We have some trade initiated with the Islands and some promised direct with the Asian shore beyond. Let them be sure that the promise is fulfilled. A line of vessels to New York is now talked of, to establish direct commerce—to bring us necessaries and take away our surplus products. Let us have them also

Let Portland see to it that no monopolists fatten on our toil that we do not pay an onerous tax to the energy and capital of California that our supplies are brought direct from the world's great marts, and our breadstuffs sent directly to them. Portland has grown rich trafficking with the toiling people of Oregon. Let her invest her wealth to perpetuate her greatness; cast off her swaddling clothes, and be a commercial city indeed, and not a mere suburb of San Francisco. Let Oregon benefit by her enterprise and be freed at once in a great measure from the commissions and charges we have so long paid for the privilege of doing business with and through our neighbors

The following account of a conversation between General Grant and Gov Curtin is in circulation

"Why do you like the Methodists, General?" finally asked Curtin

Because their religion is one of hard knocks. They take hold of a man and never let him drop until they have either converted him or scared him so that he will say his prayers some time in his life and thus be saved, said Grant with a smile. Then, too, it is an American religion. The Methodists are entirely Democratic yet no church appreciates the value of Union, federalization, or centralization in government more than the Methodists. I wish that our national government had the liberty and the strength that it ought to have from a proper exercise of these principles"

Horace Greeley wrote the following characteristic letter to the Universal Peace Society

"I believe in peace, and mean to do my best to secure it. My impression however is that I am arming the good and turning them over to the tender mercies of the bad is not the way to insure it. I apprehend that some of the chronic enemies of peace will have to be disarmed possibly killed, before we can have universal and lasting peace.

Yours, HORACE GREELEY"

[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN]

DATES TO JULY 7

The New York Convention

NEW YORK July 7. The Convention was called to order at 10 10 A M. Prayer was offered by Dr Plummer, in the course of which he referred with feeling to the sudden death of Peter Cagger a delegate to the Convention

A delegate from Delaware submitted resolutions from Alexander H Stephens of Georgia, which were read

Richardson of Illinois moved that all resolutions hereafter submitted be referred without reading

During the discussion on this motion Henry C Murphy from the committee on Platform reported resolutions. The first eight are precisely as was sent on Monday. The ninth denounces the usurpation and tyranny of the radical party in violation of pledges to conduct the war only for the preservation of the Union and not for the subjugation of States or the overthrow of the freedom of speech or the press. It declares that instead thereof the radicals have established a system of espionage in disregard of the habeas corpus, have made the national capital a bastile and threaten now to destroy the original jurisdiction of the Supreme Court and have maligned its Chief Justice because of his integrity on the trial of the President

The platform continues at considerable length to refer to the cabinets and in conclusion declares the privilege and trust of suffrage belongs exclusively to the control of each State and that Congress has usurped it in violation of the Constitution

The platform further pacifically denounces the reconstruction acts of Congress as usurpation unconstitutional and void and demands that the pensions of soldiers and sailors shall be faithfully paid and the public lands reserved for homesteads

It thanks Andrew Johnson for resisting the aggressions of Congress

Great cheers were given on conclusion of the platform which invites men of all parties to unite upon this platform. It contains four demands as follows: Payment of the public debt of the United States as rapidly as practicable, that all money drawn from the people by taxation except so much as is requisite for the necessities of government economically administered, shall be honestly applied to such payment, and when obligations of government do not expressly state upon their face and the law under which they were issued does not provide they shall be paid in coin that they ought in right and justice to be paid in lawful money of the United States

Murphy moved the previous question on adoption of the platform which was carried and the platform was adopted amid the wildest enthusiasm and cheering

Bigler offered a resolution that the Convention now proceed to nominate a candidate for President. Carried amid some confusion

Seymour then explained the two thirds rule—being anxious that no misapprehension should arise. After a ballot was taken, he invited discussion by the Convention, whether two thirds of the whole Convention or two thirds of the delegates voting should determine the ballot

Richardson moved that two thirds of the delegates voting should determine. He denounced the two thirds rule as mischievous. Finally however after discussion, he withdrew his motion, and the chair ruled that two thirds of all the delegates shall be necessary for a nomination

The Convention then proceeded to receive nominations. Connecticut nominated Gov English. Maine nominated Gen Hancock. New Jersey nominated Gov Packer. New York nominated Sanford E Church. Ohio nominated Geo H Pendleton. Pennsylvania nominated Wm F Packer. Tennessee nominated Andrew Johnson. Wisconsin nominated James R. Doolittle. Each nomination was accompanied by a brief speech which was received with applause

A delegate inquired whether nominations could be made after balloting had commenced. He was answered in the affirmative

First ballot—total vote, 317. Necessary to a choice, 212

The result was as follows: Pendleton, 105 Johnson, 64 Church 34 English, 16 Doolittle 14 Hancock, 33½ Parker 13 Packer 26. The balance were scattering. Several other ballots were then taken

The sixth ballot stood: English 6 Hancock 47 Pendleton 122½ Parker 13 Packer 27 Church, 33, Johnson, 21 Doolittle, 12, Hendricks 30 Blair, 5.

A communication was received from the Soldier's and Sailor's Convention, announcing the adoption of a resolution approving and endorsing the platform of the Democratic Convention

A motion for recess was rejected and and a motion to adjourn till 10 o'clock to morrow, was carried

OUR SAN FRANCISCO DISPATCH

SAN FRANCISCO, July 8—Yesterday afternoon Mrs Ferraro, widow of the brave Italian who was lost at the Oakland disaster, attempted to throw herself overboard from the steamer El Capetan. She was prevented by some of the bystanders. A movement is on foot to raise a fund for the relief of the widows whose husbands were lost on the occasion

The Supreme Court has sustained Judge Sawyer's order reducing to $3,000 the damages awarded Dr Rowell in his late libel suit against the Examiner

The judgment against Michael Reese has at last been satisfied

Thirty four prisoners confined at Ft Alcatraz chiefly for desertion, publishes a card to day complaining that they are restrained of their liberty and urging that they should be released

The report that Gen Crook recently met with defeat by Indians in Washington Territory is not credited at military headquarters here

The proprietors of the patent fire extinguisher yesterday obtained permission to set fire to the steamship Sonora lying at Saucelito for the purpose of showing how easily a fire can be extinguished with one of their annihilators. Unfortunately the tables were turned and the fire extinguished the annihilator and burned the vessel to the water's edge. Damage trifling as the ship had been stripped preparatory to breaking her up

H. W. Beecher says

In the first years of our lives we think that the world is great and that we are small for us and that we can carry it on our shoulders. In middle life we think it full large enough and in old age that it is much too large and are content to move it and let it carry us along

In all stages of life we frequently need something to invigorate the system

EXTINGUISHER

SELF ACTING FIRE ENGINE!

THE NEW FIRES HAVE ONLY BEEN MET BY measures [illegible] the EXTINGUISHER. The [illegible] of Engines &c &c and in getting them into working order has been found [illegible] to slight at first [illegible] become DISASTROUS CALAMITIES

This new Engine is POWERFUL and PROMPT capable of being used at any time and in any place and it [illegible] bringing a Result the Moment of its Discovery even where slow and [illegible] preventing the greater damage caused by the deluge of water now required to arrest the progress of the flames

INEXPENSIVE so simple in its construction that the mere turning of a tap is all that is necessary for full and complete action. Warranted Harmless to Life, Health and Property always ready for instant service though standing unused for years and [illegible] at any time carries it without hindrance to active exertion, entirely self acting and self propelling so that all the bearer has to do is to direct the jet by means of a flexible tube. It possesses within itself the power of a Force Pump and contains a Chemical liquid perpetually renewable every drop of which has a magical effect. Less than one-half the contents of the EXTINGUISHER is sufficient to extinguish fires large and fierce as they may be in their earliest stages

It can when an ample supply of water can be immediately obtained the EXTINGUISHER is invaluable to avert the greatest calamity individuals and communities are subjected to

They occupy no more space than a bucket of water and are indispensable for Churches Warehouses Theatres Factories Railway Stations Private Dwellings, &c

For Ships they are as necessary as Life Boats.

Report of the Heads of the Fire Department.

OFFICE CHIEF ENGINEER METROPOLITAN FIRE DEPT
FIREMAN'S HALL
NEW YORK Jan 20 1867

MESSRS LAVEY BROS—Gentlemen. Having been present on Monday the 14th inst at an experimental demonstration given by you with the "Extinguisher Portable Self Acting Fire Engine" we take pleasure in expressing our approbation of its workings. From its portability and power to project the gas and water to a considerable distance and extinguish flame we consider that it would be a most valuable auxiliary to safety in any public building especially when exposed to liability of fire from tar, lard oil, kerosene etc and would recommend its introduction into dwellings, hotels, warehouses, factories, theatres, ships, steamboats and public buildings, convinced that in the hands of a person with an ordinary degree of presence of mind it might often be the means of extinguishing what would otherwise become a large conflagration

The Great Shoshone Falls of Idaho

Correspondence of the Idaho Statesman

On a bright and [illegible] day in the [illegible] part of the present month a small party of ladies and gentlemen residents of Boise and Silver City desirous of having, for a while, a full routine of holiday life, determined upon taking a trip to the Great Shoshone Falls, the wonders of which we had all heard frequently described, but none as yet had seen.

It is unnecessary to mention in this article the names of the members of the party, the mere statement that the [illegible] Celebrated Variety Troupe is the party alluded to will suffice, most of them being individually known to your readers.

We followed the Overland Stage Road to Clarke's Ferry on Snake river, one hundred and thirty miles distant, averaging about thirty miles per day, arriving at the ferry on the afternoon of the fourth day.

One could write an article on the wonderful beauties of nature we saw upon our march. I might mention the Natural Bridge at Clover Creek, which although not so long or high as the Natural Bridge of Virginia, has still its many points of beauty to attract the attention of the tourist. Then the Falls of the Malade, formed by the river rushing and tearing through a rocky canon, the walls of which are about six hundred feet high, the river taking a flying leap of about seventy feet. Rock Springs, a beautiful lake of clear crystal water gushing from the rocks at the bottom of a chasm seven hundred feet below the surface, and apparently not accessible from any point.

The Lost River at the ferry might next claim our notice—an immense body of water shooting out from the rocky cliffs about half a mile north of Snake river, winding across the plain and forming near the river a large lake of pure water which has an outlet into the Snake river. We made several camps on excellent streams, amongst which we might mention Canon, Rattlesnake and Bennet creeks, the first named is too well known to your readers to need a puff from our pen, its reputation being nobly sustained by the large number of trout caught there, and which daily reach us by the stage.

On the morning of the fifth day from Boise we started for the Falls, fifteen miles distant from the ferry. It is necessary to cross the river as they are inaccessible from the north side. At the ferry the Troupe was increased in numbers by several ladies and gentlemen who joined us, among whom I might mention our special artist Mr. Junk, whose magnificent views of the Falls attest his usefulness as a member of the Troupe. We reached the Falls about noon, after three hours travel, five miles of the road being rough and rocky, rendering marching necessarily slow. Before attempting a description of the Falls, a few words relative to Snake river, its source, course, etc., may not come amiss to your readers.

The valley of the Snake River lies along an almost direct line from the South Pass of the Rocky Mountains, and in early days it furnished the most practicable route overland to the Pacific. In its descent over the elevated plains of Idaho, about four hundred miles from whence it takes its rise in the Rocky Mountains, Snake river forms the great Shoshone Falls. The river here runs through a narrow, rocky gorge, which widens and terminates abruptly in precipitous cliffs, the summits of which are about one thousand feet above the level of the rapids, and so steep that the traveler can descend at only one point—an old Indian trail, its numerous windings making it about a mile in length. Following this trail slowly and carefully the tourist will in due time find himself standing upon the banks of the river on a level with the rapids and overlooking the falls. The width of the river at this point has been variously estimated—we thought it at least two hundred yards. The rapids here form a series of [illegible], ranging from thirty to sixty feet each in height, and just below them the river in one unbroken sheet, leaps two hundred and ten feet into the bottomless pit below. The course of the river at this point is almost due west; the contour of the falls is that of an irregular horse shoe, and their width, following the course of the water, is at least four hundred yards. Although the river is not quite as wide at this point as the Niagara River, the falls are higher and quite as beautiful. The most complete view of the falls, including the river above and below—the rapids, cliffs and surrounding scenery is obtained from Lookout Point. Lookout Point is a narrow cape of rocks projecting from the main bluff about three hundred yards lower down on the river than the falls so narrow that two persons cannot walk abreast; care and caution should be exercised in going to the extremity of this point, the very timid and over-bold should never attempt it, a slip of the foot would in a moment precipitate one three hundred feet into the raging torrent below.

Standing upon this point, we will endeavor to name the prominent places of interest. The first object which attracts our attention is Eagle Rock, a perpendicular pillar of rock about one hundred feet in height, rising from the midst of the rapids, fifty yards from the south bank of the river and almost overhanging the main cataract. Upon the topmost peak of this rock an American eagle has built his eyrie, a fitting home for this noble national bird. Long may he live to occupy his unique and romantic abode! Just above and about the centre of the cataract, is Ballard Island, a small rocky Island covered with cedar and Juniper trees, several smaller islands to the right and left of the large one or Ballard Island, add to the beauty and picturesqueness of the scene.

The Two Sentinels, two huge rocky pillars, one on the north, the other on the south side, overlooking the falls and reminding one of [illegible] guarding their post. Lower down the river, and from a higher standpoint, one can obtain a fine panoramic view of the whole—the falls, the foaming rapids, Eagle Rock, the Two Sentinels, the picturesque islands, the huge pillars of perpetual spray rising from the bottom and near the centre of the cataract, but extending as it rises to either side, and made beautiful by the [illegible] rainbows which shed a halo of glory upon the whole scene. Still lower down the river is Prospect Gulch. Several gentlemen of the party, actuated by the spirit of adventure, determined to reach through this gulch, the river below the falls. They lowered themselves fifty feet, on a rope, down the perpendicular sides of a rocky cliff reaching firm ground, they managed with but little difficulty to scramble down about five hundred feet more to the river, arriving there, they found that their troubles had just commenced, they were six hundred yards from the falls, to reach which their path lay around and sometimes over huge boulders of slippery rocks, winding along the foot of steep banks and then through the foaming and boiling waters the heavy swells of which reminded them strikingly of the breakers on the sea shore. Finally they reached a point about thirty feet from the falls—their journey here came to an abrupt termination by the shelving of rocks into deep water, the wind struck this point with such violence that they feared to trust themselves in the erect posture, on their knees they held with their hands to the overhanging brush to prevent being blown into the river.

We think that one cannot fully comprehend the immensity of the sheet of water and the sublimity of the scene until he can gaze upwards, as we did. This point is the Cave of Winds. The Shoshone Falls as a whole will compare favorably with the Niagara. Those of our party who have seen both places pronounce the former superior in many respects. In beauty and wildness of scenery the Shoshone cannot be surpassed. Niagara excels in magnitude only.

Much can and will be done to make the Shoshone attractive to tourists as a place of summer resort. The day is not far distant when the shrill whistle of the iron horse will be heard to mingle with the thunder of our falls. Sweet will be such music to the ears of Idahoans. Thousands of tourists will then annually visit the Pacific coast. Our falls will be one of the many places that all will wish to see.

Ballard Island will be to Shoshone what Goat Island is to Niagara. Eagle Rock will supply the place of Terrapin Tower. On Lookout Point a railing can be constructed, thus making it safe for even the most timid to venture. In Prospect Gulch a winding staircase might be built to enable all without fatigue or risk to reach the river below the falls. A good path can be made to the Cave of the Winds where one can witness the grand and most sublime of all the scenes.

We claim for the ladies of our party that they are the first from any quarter who have ever visited the Shoshone. We can only advise others to do likewise. It is a trip conducive to the health of both mind and body, and one that will never be regretted.

CAUTION.

To all whom it may concern: I hereby give notice that the so-called "Shipley's Pacific Turbine Water Wheel" is a direct infringement and copy of the "James Leffel's American Double Turbine Water Wheel," and its manufacture and use is hereby prohibited. Any person or persons making, using, constructing or vending said Water Wheels make themselves liable to heavy damages and penalties. Parties interested will take notice, for I shall prosecute said infringements to the utmost extent of the law.

That all may know I mean what I say, and am not playing "Bluff," I give the following extract from a legal opinion on this subject from one of the most eminent Patent Attorneys in the United States.

WASHINGTON, D. C. April 17 1868

MR A MYERS—In accordance with your request we have examined the patents of Shipley on Water Wheels and are clearly of the opinion that they both infringe the Leffel patents. In both of Shipley's Wheels he uses the upper and lower tiers of buckets precisely as Leffel does and in this he clearly infringes. The fact that Shipley has applied another series of buckets in addition to those used by Leffel, does not relieve him from the consequences of infringement at all. He has no right to use those two tiers of buckets, whether alone or with a third or any other number of tiers added. It is a clear infringement. Respectfully yours,

DODGE & MUNN

I hereby give notice that I will prosecute every infringement on our Patents, whether it is the maker, user buyer or seller. Every infringement whether our claims are used in whole or in part, will be prosecuted.

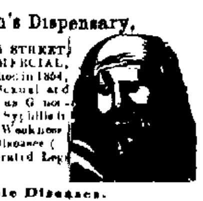
TO THE UNFORTUNATE.
NEW REMEDIES, NEW REMEDIES

Dr Gibbon's Dispensary,



616 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco. Established in 1854, for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhea, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc. Skin Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated.

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences or from virus absorbed into the system. Look at their pallid emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken-down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death is the scene. Let parents, guardians, friends attend to those who are suffering with any of these terrible life-destroying maladies, see that they are cared for and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to Doctor Gibbon, a physician who has made private diseases his especial study for years and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted and to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities, publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. But therefore be careful and make strict inquiry or you may fall into the hands of those charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions the consequence of self-abuse. This solitary vice, or depraved sexual indulgence, is practised by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing with unerring certainty, the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combatted by scientific medical measures viz: Sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, a disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, feted breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequent insanity. If relief be not obtained should apply immediately either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr. G. will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks.

MARRIED MEN,

Or those who contemplate marriage, who are suffering under any of these fearful maladies, should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them nor delay to obtain immediate relief.

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible, and will give to each patient a written instrument binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure, or make no charge.

CURED AT HOME.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME by addressing a letter to Dr. Gibbon, stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded, free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions for use, for Ten Dollars, sent in registered letter or through Wells, Fargo & Co.

Caution to the Unfortunate.

Beware of the San Francisco quacks and pretenders who, with bogus sworn certificates, dupe the unwary. Some of the self styled doctors whose names are to be found in the daily and weekly newspapers of San Francisco and other places are tradesmen and became too lazy to work at their trades. Some are fine like shoemakers, newspaper carriers, intelligence office keepers, etc. Look over the San Francisco Directory and you will not find their Medical Institutes in it, but you will find their former occupations in it. Look at the Directory for 1862 and 1863. The only way to avoid imposition is to make enquiry—it will cost you nothing, and may save you many regrets; for, as advertising physicians, in eight cases out of ten are bogus, there is no safety in trusting any of them until you know who and what they are. Dr. Gibbon does not deceive people by exhibiting bogus titles, certificates, pretended patient's letters, etc. Dr. Gibbon will satisfy persons who may call at his office of his ability to treat diseases that he proposes to cure.

Address DR. J. F. GIBBON, 616 Kearney street, corner Commercial, San Francisco. Post Office Box 262.

REMEMBER TO PUT BOX 262 ON THE LETTER.

Consultations FREE.

☞ Correspondents will please inform DR. GIBBON that they read his advertisement in the Daily Oregonian.

Medical and Surgical
INSTITUTE.

- CONSULTATION, IN ALL CASES, FREE
- CURES GUARANTEED, OR NO PAY REQUIRED.
- IN ALL CASES WHERE CONFIDENCE IS REQUIRED THE UTMOST SECRECY MAINTAINED.

The above rules, established by Dr. J. C. Young in 1850, and which have done so much to secure the reputation of this Institute, are still adhered to, affording those in need of medical aid, the certainty of cure and the utmost confidence.

There is nothing of so great importance to the sick as to know where to find a physician whose skill and humanity give assurance of proper and delicate treatment. The Doctor would respectfully call the attention of those of both sexes who are suffering or in trouble to the invariable success that has marked the career of the Institute in the seventeen years of its existence.

It is unnecessary in this connection to enumerate all the complaints treated at the Institute, but the Doctor feels it his duty to call especial attention to that terrible scourge,

SEMINAL WEAKNESS,

That is sapping with its insidiousness the very life of its victims; in the treatment and cure of which the Institute has earned so enviable a reputation.
